The first job interview

Preparing your first job interview.

The future trainee will have to prepare for his interview as if it was a job interview. This interview must be considered like a first approach of the professional world. We suggest some simple rules which will help you make a success of this first stage:

Find out about the company that may hire you. Show that you move forward on familiar ground, which the employer will appreciate,

Practice with relatives. Simulate "trap situations ", learn to improvise,

During an interview, you should never look amazed or stunned.

On the day of the interview, avoid getting dressed in an untidy way nor too exuberant! Choose a sober look!
